

Dear Friends,

If we want to stop American manufacturing companies from sending jobs overseas, we need a common sense solution to encourage them to produce goods here at home.

That's why I introduced legislation that will help manufacturers bring production back onto our shores. The "Bring the Jobs Home Loan Act" will allow the Small Business Administration to offer loans to manufacturers that reshore jobs and production back to the United States instead of manufacturing overseas. These loans will reduce upfront capital costs and provide a cash flow to businesses that are creating American jobs. The program would also include assistance for manufacturers to provide technical, high-skilled training to their employees. This workforce training will keep American workers competitive in the global marketplace.

To check out my op-ed that ran in Newsday about the "Bring the Jobs Home Loan Act", click here

And for more information on my work fighting for small businesses on Long Island, visit <http://israel.house.gov>

Sincerely,

Steve Israel
Member of Congress